All Memberships - Insurance

All membership categories are covered by the BA National Insurance Policy, included within the capitation price outlined above. Membership Refund Policy Please access our Membership Refund Policy here>>>

Short Season Programs

Eligibility for Clubs, Regions or Competition management Committees to access this membership type is by written proposal to State/Territory association and is assessed in partnership with BA. Proposals should address the following criteria:

- The length of the program should not exceed six (6) weeks excluding finals.
- Targeting a cohort not previously addressed within a catchment area
- Pilot of a new program
- Participants have not previously been members
- Remote/disadvantaged area
- Programs are applicable for one season only and cannot be applied to existing programs or competitions

Tournament Membership

A membership category covering events where participants may only play one weekend/event per purchase. Examples include the following events:

- Masters & Regional tournaments
- University Games

Masters born before the year 1973 are exempt from paying additional fees to compete in the Senior competition. Female Masters players are exempt from paying additional fees to compete in the GBL Women's Competition.

Entry Level Membership

The recommended retail price for Aussie T-Ball and Rookie Ball (Little League Minor) is $200 per participant. Clubs that sell these memberships at this price (or less) will have access to a free participant pack for distribution to those registered under these membership types.

No “Top Up” to Full Membership Available.

Please urge all participants to consider their plans for participation as there are no options to pay a “Top Up” fee from a short membership, tournament membership or any other form, to a full membership. If they think they may play in more than one event encourage the participant to consider the value of a full membership. E.g. If a player buys a Tournament or Short Season membership to play in a tournament or short season then decides they want to be eligible for selection to a Queensland Representative team, that player will need to pay the full fee for a full membership even though they have already paid to play in a specific event. This person (an Adult for the purposes of this example) will pay for their tournament fee, then when they decide they want to play for Queensland they will need to buy a full membership. They could have saved themselves the short season fee by buying the full season membership up front.

No Top Up fee will be applied. So please encourage participants to consider this when purchasing their membership.
